Pet beds

It's so hard to choose a new bed for your pet . Should you be influenced by design? Or should you focus on comfort? I have found a bewildering selection to choose from, but these shown below from puullypower are so fancy pants, they look like every best dressed pet should have one to stretch out on.

The traditional 'basket' - comfortable and functional

"Hey, which of these is my tongue?"

"Okay, the next one of you to move gets ripped!"

Like a little pug flower head and lastly, very cool for cats and this cat knows it obviously this one is for the whole family (or just me and my hub)

This is from bowwowbeds I included it just because I love the dog.

We enjoy uncovering the unique, quirky, and inspired stuff out there for dogs and cats. We love pet products that bring style into a home environment, and those beautifully functional pieces that immediately become "must-have" additions to the spaces we share with our pets. Please come on in, make yourself comfy and dig deep under the blanket.
